“First of all I want to start of saying about how I joined the server, I had an account last year in May before I deleted it and when I came back I joined Akrow's since it was a server I really liked and I saw Anna telling us to join and I decided to join cause why not? It was on September 17th, the day I joined discord. Honestly, this server means a lot to me, the people, the fun activities we do, the jokes, the time spent in vc, every single moment is very special. This server honestly helped with my mental health especially during a time where I felt pressured combined with a bunch of other things I don't wanna talk about. Every single person I talked with helped me cope with all the things that happened. I'm truly grateful for every person that had been with me or just told a little 'hi' to me. Just remember that even though it's just an online server, it might mean a lot to few people and always be nice because you don't know how much that kindness would mean to the person you are talking to. (Special mention to reenieeeeeee, the person who's always there to chat with me and basically everyone in my friend list because I definitely had a strong reason to friend you.)” - Rose

“this server has helped me through many hard times, if i have to talk about something to someone there's always someone that hears me out. Anna has done a great job building this server. ❤️ ❤️” – Akram

“christmas.” – Icicle I just want to be here ahh quote

“hello i just wanted to share a little lore about my time in this community. the reason i first joined this server was because akrow gave me 1k robux, and i wanted to give something back, so i bought youtube membership from his channel. before anna's community even started, i was a red blooded akrow fan. id be in pretty much every membership stream and stuff. i really enjoyed playing with akrow, and sometimes ppyht0n would be in the member streams too. we played jailbreak a lot. good times haha

this community (especially akrows nest) means a lot to me. im really grateful for the time i spent with yall, even though i cant stay very active anymore since life keeps moving forward and it doesnt really wait for anyone. im genuinely thankful for everyone who made my time here better. i especially want to give a personal shout out to aspher, eze and valentina amazing people and which I absolutely enjoy talking and chatting with them.

merry christmas!” – Dhaloj Thanks dhaloj... dhaloj of turkey... there you go, I finally said it correctly.

“All I want for Christmas is for Akrow to finally pay me” – Pure all I want for Christmas is you bbg...

“A whole yearnin this community, I love this place very much. See a lot of new people and know a lot of new friends. Start working with shoko in comic might be one of the best thing I ever do in here. Thanks everyone to be here with me and hope yall have a good Christmas and a good 2026! Bless from China” – Plague Doctor I am surprised that he typed this so well while drunk.

“As the writer of this newspaper, I ultimately have the supreme authority to put my own quote at the bottom of the paper!! Ha!! Anyways. I would like to begin my quote by talking about the events pertaining to me joining... SO, it was a very bad time in university for me!! But I found this server shortly after joining Rounded (Anna was spamming her server link...) and it kind of went off the rails from there... I became very active amongst my time at uni (nothing else to do) and it was not long until I became a moderator!! (got to be a top 10 decision of all time that one goshhhh 😊). Server has brought great joy to my doorstep in times of darkness, thank you everyone, love you all. Now, for my special shoutout to Envy... they have always been there for me, and I couldn’t ever ask for another bestie ❤️❤️❤️. Envy is so sweet and funny and slay and bestie and YEHAHHHHHHHHH MERRY CHRISTMASS BESTIEEE AND MERRY CHRSITMAS ENVYANSSS AND AKROWS NESTIANS AND AND AND NINA SHOUTUTTT TO NINA SHES IN MY ATTIC AND ANNA X AKROW HOW DSILLY OF MEE AHDDSDFKDFJDSFJSDFOSDOFOSDOFSDFOJFOJ ILYY BESTIEEEEEEE ENVY!!!!

I physically cannot mention everyone... so if you’re seeking validation feel free to ask me how cool you are to me... because a lot of you are very very cool. Like, super cool. Yeahhhh looking at you [your name here]. I WOULD totally have the energy to type it all out here individually if this paper wasn’t already 4025 words long as of typing this. Twice the length of the essays due that I haven’t done by the way. Anyways, yes, you are all very awesome and important to me; you all know who you are.” - Valentina

Petrah wins the Enivya Talent show

Credit: Petrah

Exciting announcement fell upon the enivya server as the announcement came out, in it the members were informed of the exciting talent show coming in just few minutes with a grand prize of 10,000 robux!

The talent was judged by a judging panel consisting of three: Bibi, Akrow and Anna. Surprising number of contestants decided to show their talent by singing, one of them ending up in the 3rd place overall, that was Swans with a score of 22/30, second place was tpg3 who played piano with a score of 23.3724/30 and the first place, winning the grand price, was me. By putting on my pointe shoes and showing my ballet skills i was awarded the first place. We can’t forget to mention Oliana, the cutest contestant, she had to be disqualified and banned for being underage but even though she didn’t win the talent show, she won our hearts.

This night was a night to remember; it not only showed the talents but also the courage and commitment of every contestant. Right as the show ended Bibi, more commonly known as cvtebib, invited everyone interested to come into general 1 to have a Spanish class with her. Many people came and listened to her class for few hours and by the end they got a test of what they learned. Many of the students successfully aced the test. That was definitely a night to remember!

"Im never doing a talentshow again till i have a good talent or when im not scared of stages, and congrats Petrah on winning"- Dvvg

"The talent show was amazing!! a lot of talented people participated and it was an honor to be a judge!!!!" - bibi

"Talent" -akrow

"the talent show was really good and enjoyed it x" -swans

"The king of pop, how Michael Jackson changed music forever" by Petrah

Michael Jackson, more commonly known as the king of pop, was born in Gary, Indiana on august 29th 1958. His father Joseph was very harsh on both him and his 5 brothers and many times was shamed for being "ugly", he was forced from a very young age to start rehearsals for the Jackson 5 shows. Over the years he said that he was beat up by his father and never got to experience a true childhood. As they left contract with Motown records, they also had to change the name to just Jacksons, Jermaine Jackson also decided to leave the band and stay with Motown and Randy stepped in to fill in his place. After that Michael decided to start his solo career launching his first albums: Got to be there, ben, Music and me and forever, Michael. But the first album that really got popular was Off the wall with great hits. But that wasn't enough for Michael, as he said he wanted to change music forever, he wanted to make something big. So that was how thriller was made in 1982, the album that won 8 Grammys in one night, not only that but to this day its most streamed album ever created. After that he continued making amazing albums such as Bad (1987), dangerous (1991), history (1995), blood on the dance floor (1997) and invincible (2001).

History was the album that had a lot of his personal thoughts described thru music, as the lies from tabloids about him spread he made that album in hopes of showing his true nature, he was a person tortured throughout his whole life with no reason behind it. Michael had Vitiligo, which is a disease that makes skin lose its colour, but nobody believed him. He also had a incident with Pepsi (1984) where he had a big burn on his scalp and was left with bald spot resulting in painful operations to try and patch it and having to wear hats and wigs.

While performing he also broke his nose and that was when he first decided to a nose job, all those years of his dad saying that he was ugly got to him. As i previously mentioned history album had a lot of personal songs such as "childhood" which explained his wish and desire to have a normal childhood and "stranger in Moscow" which explained how he felt lonely and misunderstood. In 1999 during a charity concert in Munich, Michael performed his hit "Earth Akrow's Nest and Enivyan song" as the platform that lifted him in the air malfunctioned he fell with Great speed and injured his back. That left him having to take pain killing medicine to even manage to sleep at night, but even with a broken back he finished his performance.

His song "Morphine" was about the medication that he had to take. Michael never had his own childhood which led him to act like a big child, as the home videos show he loved to climb trees and he even built a whole theme park inspired by Peter pan called "Neverland" which was open for all children around the world. He did a lot of secret charity donations that he never made public. Michael wanted to make a big final tour around the world in 2009 called "this is it", he rehearsed a lot and already was pretty old, he was 50 at the time, so he had to take more serious medications, he used drug called propofol used to put people to sleep for operations which were not supposed to use outside of the hospital, doctor Murray knowing that decided to keep giving him that. Propofol had to be used in places with breathing machines as the body shuts down completely if given too much, that night Murray gave Michael a lot more propofol than usual and left the room as he came back he saw Michael not breathing, he decided to clean up first and then call Emergency numbers resulting in Michael's unfortunate fate. Michael will forever be remembered for his impact on the world of music, and his name will be remembered forever as the true King of pop!

He's a White and Black cat with a very big personality, he loves cuddles. He meows a lot, he's very talkative. He also loves my other cat Loki which ya'll have seen before! Unfortunately, he passed the rainbow bridge about 2 months ago now. May he Rest In Peace <3
